Text : 1) Justice by John Galsworthy.

I. Annotate any three of the following :

(3 × 5 = 15)

- 1) It's a matter of life and death.
- 2) Gentlemen, Justice is a machine that, when someone has once given it the starting push, rolls on of itself.
- 3) The woman had a nasty, spiteful feller for a husband, and she'd left him. Fact is, she was going away with our young friend.
- 4) He can't get anything to do. It's dreadful to see him. He's just skin and bone.
- 5) This is painful, Falder. But you must see for yourself that it's impossible for a firm like this to close its eyes to everything.

II. Answer any three of the following :

(3 × 15 = 45)

- 1) 'Justice' specifically focuses on the inhuman treatment meted out to prisoners, and the disastrous consequences of solitary confinement. Elaborate.
- 2) Describe the circumstances that lead to Falder's tragic death.
- 3) Why does Hector Frome, the advocate passionately plead that Falder should not be turned into a hard-boiled criminal by being sent to prison?
- 4) Justice or the law is like a huge Juggernaut. More often than not innocent people like Falder are crushed under its chariot wheels. Substantiate.
- 5) The irony is that the play deals with all kinds of injustices but is called 'Justice'. Do you agree?

III. Answer any two of the following in short:

(2 × 10 = 20)

- 1) The trial of Falder in Act II.
- 2) Galsworthy's dramatic techniques used in 'Justice'.
- 3) Sketch the character of Ruth Honeywill.
- 4) Falder's experiences in jail.
